Alpaca and Cotton TOYS

In some place of Peru

Woman working in the project local

We are working with the craftswomen of cotton and alpaca items already ago more than 8 years and want to transmit you the characteristics of the process that implies its artisan work, that like all work of this type, it entails the originality and the unique thing of each product.

They are several people those that work, reason why no piece is just as another one.

They consider its work like a communitarian work, in which each one puts own and unique.

Also for us it is a pride to be able to work with them and to contribute, not only to its development like community, but to the conservation of artisan works, moved away of monotony industrialist.
